Why have most women lost half their teeth at the age of forty . . .? Dentists say that excess mouth acid is one of the main causes of such rapid decay.

To correct this mouth acid, many dentists advise 'Milk of Magnesia', contained only in one toothpaste -Phillips' Dental Magnesia.

So start to-day with Phillips', which keeps teeth bright, leaves the mouth feeling wonderfully fresh and dispels mouth acid at every brushing.

DIE IN DISASTER AT IRON PLANT

Escape of Furnace Gas

ELEVEN men died and 28 were admitted to Shotley Bridge Hospital as Shotley Bridge Hospital as the result of an escape of t ast - furnace gas on Saturday night at Consett Ironworks.

A statement on the disaster issued by Consett Iron Co. states that at about 10 p.m. on Saturday, on "a caim evening when the atmosphere was heavy," a serious escape of blast-furnace gas (carbon monoxide) occurred which spread and hung about a considerable area of the blast-furnace plant.

CHANGING SHIFTS

The men were changing shifts and as some were overcome by the gas and the laarm was given men from other departments rushed to the affected area, being overcome in their turn until about 45 men were rendered unconscious.

"The chairman directors and management wish to express their deepest sympathy with the bereaved," the statement con-cludes

Ronald Meekham, of Rose berry Terrace, Consett, found the first casualty and gave the alarm.

His prompt action probably revented more men from being

"LIKE BATTLEFIELD"

Robert Smith, a works time-keeper, who was touring the works making a check after the men had come on shift, said he saw men "falling and lying about as if they had been shot on the battlefield."

"Splendid aid was given to the works ambulance service by local doctors, police, ambulance and fire services which hurried to the scene," states the company's report.

The men who died in the disaster were: Joseph Edward Humble (44), of the Grove, Consett; Thomas Cook Easten (45), of Hawthorn "errace, of Church, Cardiff for the Blackhill; John Sham Road, Blackhill; Arthur Briggs Consett; Thomas Heslop (32), of Ejtringham Street, Blackhill; Arthur Briggs S
